

Leon Speakers Enhances Horizon and Profile Series With More Powerful Drivers and Thinner Profiles Without Raising Prices

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — July 13, 2009 — Leon Speakers, a manufacturer of custom-built, audiophile-grade loudspeakers for flat-panel displays and living-space theaters™, today announced that the company has enhanced its Horizon and Profile Series 4-inch product lines to include upgraded drivers and shallower cabinets. Each Horizon 414 and Profile 404 Series speakers now feature 4-inch Peerless HDS woofers for more power and increased performance. The new speakers offer a depth of just 3.25 inches to complement the thinner profile of today's flat-panel displays. Maintaining their price of just $1,495 for a high-fidelity multichannel speaker or stereo pair, customers can enjoy Leon's custom audio solutions without paying more for the enhanced level of performance.

“Across the line, all new Horizon and Profile Series 4-inch speakers will include our reference-grade drivers for increased power handling, setting a new standard for high-fidelity audio in modern living-space theaters,” said Noah Kaplan, president of Leon Speakers. “As we’ve grown as a company, we’ve been able to work more efficiently with our suppliers. This has allowed us to give back to our customers by increasing quality without increasing prices.”

The Horizon and Profile 4-inch speakers can also be upgraded to “A” models, which include Morel MDT-12 tweeters, or “X-A” models, which feature dual drivers per channel and Morel MDT-29 tweeters. Build-to-order options for the Leon Horizon and Profile Series include the ability to match any width, height, or color specification with multiple configurations for the soundbar solution available (L/C/R, L/R or Center-channel only).
